Through interviews and follow-up, UPD learned that several people heard the words "voicemails" and "voicebox." Another individual heard the words "five times, why the voicebox." This made the witness one of the people who did not respond to repeated attempts by UPD to contact them.

The witness was one of the people who did not respond to repeated attempts to contact them, as identified by UPD. The information was learned by UPD from interviews conducted by UPD officers. However, many of the witnesses did not respond to repeated phone calls and e-mails from UPD. UPD learned that the original voicebox was not identified by UPD officers. Over the course of three months, the UPD received no response to their inquiries. UPD interviewed the victim.

On 1/10/7, UPD received new information from the victor. A new voicebox was identified by UPD. The voicebox was located at the intersection of two streets.

The witness was also the victim of a crime. The crime was identified by UPD officers. However, many of the witnesses did not respond to repeated attempts to contact them. Over the course of three months, the UPD received no response to their inquiries. UPD interviewed the victim.
